CHURUBUSCO HIGH SCHOOL

CHURUBUSCO, INDIANA

VOLUME XVI

Viewing the CHS Personality

requires you to come with us throughout our school days, weeks, months, and year, for a closer look at all 250 of us . . . . as a school. We as individuals vary in interest and talents, but we join together to make our school the best.

Our halls ring with excitement in the morning as we proudly exclaim our discovery of an algebra solution, or as we talk about last night's game, and the teamwork our boys showed. Our classes are filled with tension and thought as we are challenged by our teachers. Class projects show our dedication and co-operation. Pep sessions show our school spirit. And at ballgames enthusiasm and sportsmanship show through our anxiety as we cheer our boys to the end.

Interest, alertness, and action as a result of convocations prove that we have a desire to make our school, community, country, and world a better place.

This desire is being created every day in our school life. And as more emphasis is being placed on education, we at CHS also believe that a well-educated person needs a well-rounded personality. CHS greets you as a whole with one common interest, which is showing to you how our school day plays an important part in developing our education and personality.

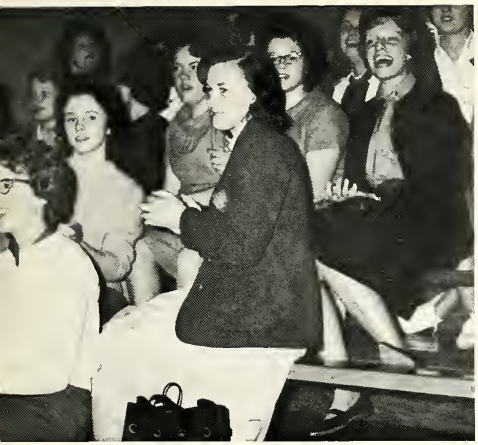
EDITOR'S NOTE 80

"Twist" anyone? Or is it the mashed potato time? Fast or slow, the dances were fun after the home ballgames.

OUR DAILY ROUTINE

"Well, here they are, Vern," says Ron Cook as Mr. Rose thinks, "I could sure use some of those for my locker, too."

A group of hungry scholars peer at the food being served in the cafeteria.



"Go boys, go-o-o" chant the freshman girls as they cheer the frosh intramural boys on to a victory.

"Check," said Dave as he moved his queen into a strategic position which resulted in a disaster for Bill that noon.

BURSTS INTO COLOR

As school progresses throughout the year many habits form—some of which we are aware, and others we are not. We students seem to have the essential habit of frequenting our lockers for books . . . . and for other purposes! The food line always produces satisfying results. Each class also seems to have distinctive habits of their own.

"I'm wondering, do we have a size 3?" Pat has just learned why her knowledge is so limited!

CO. SCHOO

What? Picketing in the halls? Worried, Mike Cramer says, "We boys and girls with our sophomore sweaters had better get out of the halls and go to our home room or the balcony."

During the school year the people of Churubusco may get their fill of cards, candy, magazines, and fish, The sophomores work hard selling cards, the juniors selling candy, and the seniors busy themselves handling magazines and fish. But, in this slippery business the rewards are plentiful. For being a sophomore, the privilege of wearing a sophomore sweater is granted. For being a junior, the class rings may be traded. And for being a senior, the rewards speak for themselves.

PROJECTS AND REWARDS

No, this isn't a foreign hand shake, jive, or wave. The four rings represented proudly belong to four juniors' hands.

Are we bowing down to Buddha? Is this slave day? Oh, of course, these seniors are showing their uniquely colorful .... yes! And the top row is showing off the front portion of their cords.

MAKE LIFE MUCH FULLER

Did you ever hear of eating turtles? Juniors Don Martin, Sharon Diffendarfer, Nancy Crabill, and Bob Hoffman say they were quite tasty and sold easily.

Seniors Larry LaRue, John Whan, Kaye Perlich, Sharon Sheldon, Alan Thompson, and Don Johnson point to the sign advertising their fish fry.

THO FADS AND DATES COME OUR WAY

WE MAKE TIME FOR IMPORTANT DAYS

The civic organizations of Churubusco send eight fortunate Junior boys and girls to Girls' and Boys' State at Indiana University every year. There they can participate in the band and choir, while learning more about Government. The sponsoring organizations were the American Legion Auxiliary, P.T.A., B. & P.W., Lions Club, and Rotary Club.

Girls' and Boys' State Alternates: Standing: Marcia Bates, Dan Anderson, Don Johnson, Alan Thompson. Seated: Sherral Geiger, Dianna Crist, Nancy Gordon.

The twenty member play, "Dino", directed by Miss Allison, was held on October 14. The play was given one night.

"DINO"

The Juniors had a wonderful time preparing for the play, "Dino." Although we had only a cast of twenty, the remainder of the class worked hard to sell tickets. With only a little over five weeks to perfect the play, the cast did a fine job of putting on the three act drama.

Bob Helm, Betsy Helm, John Townsend, Susan Barnhart, Kaye Perlich, Don Johnson, Judy Fuller, Ron Johnson, and Jeanne Gross.

OCTONES

The Octones were very active this year. They came to school at 7:30 A.M. each Tuesday and Thursday marning to practice for their many engagements and the district and state vocal contest. For the district contest, the girls made matching pink suits and the boys wore dinner jackets. The group made a very attractive first at the state vocal contest singing "Jonah Swallowed The Whale."

On February 1, 1963, the coronation of the Snowball Queen was held between halves of the varsity game with Harlan. This contest was sponsored by the TUSITALA staff to help pay expenses of publishing the yearbook.

One candidate was chosen from each class to represent them. The classes backed her with bake sales, slave sales, car-washes and pizza parties. Each penny counted as one vote. The candidates were escorted by the highest bidder. The candidates and their escorts were as follows: senior class: Linda Bailey and Larry LaRue; junior class: Marsha Gaff and Ron Bowser; sophomore class: Vickie Hendrickson and Mike Cramer; freshman class: Beverly Linvill and Merle Cramer.

As the final moments of the contest ticked slowly by, suspense was felt by all. Jeanne Gross, last year's queen, announced the winner. Vickie, the Sophomore candidate, was crowned Snowball Queen for 1963!

SNOWBALL COURT

The white carpet was rolled out. The band, forming an honor guard, played a salute to the queen candidates as they marched through the gym and onto the stage.

"Have a cup of this delicious punch!" Carolyn Benson offers her escort a cup of punch as Steve Gordon patiently waits his turn at the punchbowl.

FANTASY OF THE SEA

"Anybody got a pin?" This remark could be heard as couples were showered with balloons.

The Hotel LaFontaine in Huntington was the setting of the Junior-Senior Reception on May 5. The chosen theme was "Fantasy of the Sea." The ballroom was decorated in a rainbow of colors, seashells, fish-netting, paper fish, nets of balloons, a seahorse, and a sea-view mural. Following the dinner the cup was presented to Ron Johnson by Paul Bair. Everyone enjoyed the reading of the class will and prophecy. Entertainment was provided by Don and Ron Johnson. Later on, couples danced to the music of the Gary Nordman quartet and enjoyed punch from the beautifully decorated punch table.

This busy-looking crew is responsible for the background that transformed the ballroom into a sea fantasy.

"Hold it Don! I'll agree 'There is Nothin' Like a Dame,' but let's not get carried away!" says Ron Johnson to his twin Don. They provided the entertainment for our 1961-1962 Junior-Senior Prom.

Laughs and chuckles can be heard as Vern Rose reads the cleverly-written prophecy.

Who will be queen? Suspense mounts as Arlene Linvill, Diane Miller, and Sandra Franklin await the proclamation of who will reign.

ACTIVITIES

BAND SOUNDS OFF TO JAZZ, OVERTURE

The band, under the direction of Mr. Long, has been very busy this year. Besides the regular first period class, private sessions have been held to get the students prepared for the different contests. In the state marching contest we were able to obtain a second, of which all the members of the band are proud.

The student directors this year are Ron Johnson and Larry LaRue. These boys should be commended for their fine jobs.

Mr. Long rehearses the alto sax section with the admonition, "Now, let's get a little more vibrato in there this time!"

MELODIC MONTHLY

Chorus accompanist, Jeanne Gross.

Chorus Officers: Don Johnson, president; Ron Johnson, vice-president; Jeanne Gross, accompanist; Betsy Helm, secretary; Susan Barnhart, treasurer.

The seventy-two member charus, along with the band, presented four concerts this year for the community. The rafters rang with harmony and song as the director waved his batan in perfect rhythm. Something new was alsa added to our chorus. They purchased beautiful, blue robes which they will weor with pride in the coming years.

CONCERTS FILL THE GYM WITH MUSIC

SCHOOL NITES SEE STAFF

Co-operation was one of the main words the "Tusitala" staff used this year. By working busily after school to create a different and bigger yearbook, the finished product was completed.

The staff of the 62-63 "Tusitala" would like to use this space also to thank all advertisers, teachers, students, and everyone else who helped the book materialize.

Assistant Editor, Marcia Bates; Sponsor, Mr. Dowdy; and Editor, Susan Barnhart.

MEMBERS SLAVING AWAY

"But Copy B isn't done!" is one of the familiar comments that drift from Room 8 during the Tusitala staff meetings.

FFA - "LEARNING TO DO ... LIVING TO SERVE

F.F.A. Officers:

Seated: Mr. Scribner, sponsor, Ron Peters, Phil Mc Coy, Kerry Perlich. Standing: John Geiger, Junior Geiger, Jack Green.

What would the world do without farmers? Well, as long as there are boys and F.F.A., this will not become a major problem. In F.F.A. boys learn how to get along with other people.

Many opportunities are open to the boys in F.F.A. Contests and leadership in the club itself help the boys to learn the responsibilities of later life.

F. F. A. ...TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

The F.H.A. Members spent many hours popping popcorn and selling it at ballgames to finance some of their activities and programs. Our chapter was a guest of the Huntertown F.H.A. and shared in a program on marriage relationships. Activities of the Churubusco Chapter included an after-dance at both the Fall and Spring meetings held at Ossian and Union City respectively. The meetings included special areas such as: educational values and international relations. The last meeting of the year welcomed the mothers as our guests for the evening. Chapter mothers for the year were Mrs. Tulley and Mrs. Lewellyn.

F. T. A. HELPS TO CREATE INTEREST

F.T.A. is an organization of students who are interested in the teoching profession. Their main goal is to learn more about this profession and in later years be o port of it.

This year F.T.A. has taken trips to various schools in the search for the school they wish to attend, knowledge, and better understanding of those who they will be working with.

Photography is really an art and it takes plenty of practice before one can take a picture and develop it accurately. The main purpose of the Camera Club is to help the students of Churubusco High learn the tricks of the trade. If you were to look at some of their finished products, you probably wouldn't believe that a student was capable of doing that type of work.

Sci-Math Club Assembles Theories, Applies Logic

The Sci-Math Club is a new club this year but it is already making great gains in its procedures. In the club meetings new methods and theories in both science and math are brought up in special reports and then later discussed.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The members of the student council have been busy again this yeor picking out speakers for assemblies, talking over the problems of the students ond school, and doing whatever else comes up. The student council also decorated the Christmas tree which gave the school that certain look.

TATTLER STAFF

This year as always the members of the Tattler have put out a fine paper. The staff is composed of students in the Office Practice class. By putting out a paper they learn how to use different machines, write articles, and organize materials. The Tattler is a combination of notes from the principal, jokes, articles on the clubs, and other things of interest to the student body.

Editors of the paper are chosen on a rotatian basis so that each member of the class has a part in the editing of it. The paper is distributed monthly.

"See how easy it is to run the ditto machine?" Don Johnson performs this operation as Jo Ann Patton and Sharon Sheldon look on.

Members of the office practice class work vigorously to imporve their speed and accuracy.

"Let me help," seems to be what Mrs. Shaffer is saying.

Standing: Don Amber, Dianna Crist, Don Johnson, Joyce Rider, Karen Andorfer, Becky Barnes, Carolyn Benson, Betsy Helm, Sandy Barth, Karen Duncan. Seated: Sharon Sheldon, Linda Jamieson, Pat Tonkel.

ACADEMIC

NEW MACHINES REFLECT REALISM, WHILE

CHS is well equipped with all the machines necessary for office and secretarial training. Students learn to type and use a variety of machines; and courses such as business law and office practice acquaint future cammercial men and women with the business world.

Jo Ann Patton's concentration is showing as she strives to make the mimeograph machine work properly.

ART MATERIALS PROMOTE ABSTRACTION

Do you have a yearning to express yourself with art? Join the interesting art class at CHS. Here you may mold ceramics, work with charcoal, fingerpaint, carve soap, and learn many other crafts. Have fun while discovering the real meaning of art.

Steve Patton, Barbara Stangland, and Junior Geiger admire this example of a fashion drawing. Miss Allison felt that some examples would help the students get a start on their new project.

HOME ECONOMICS AND INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Donna Gordon has to have a steady hand as she threads the needle of her sewing machine.

Pinning up Carolyn Siebern's hem appears to be very simple to Karon Gaff.

The better home makers of tomorrow are well versed in the skills of better planning for better living. They understand how to prepare well balanced, nutritious meals and sew comfortable attractive clothing for their families. The girls have fun, too, when they devour their self-prepared dishes, and model in dress revues.

Shirley Byrd, Mary Jo Longsworth, and Sharon Winebrenner work busily to produce some mouth-watering yeast bread.

Mr. Delagrange smiles approvingly as the shop students slave over their projects.

DEVELOP SKILLS FOR SELF-SATISFACTION

While viewing the CHS personality, be sure to peer into the industrial arts rooms. Shop, mechanical drawing, vocational agriculture, and driver's education offer technical and generol knowledge for future living to everyone at CHS. The information gathered in these class rooms will be utilized by its every student.

Mr. Robbins explains the mysteries of a piston to wondering driver ed. students Patty Zolman and John Geiger.

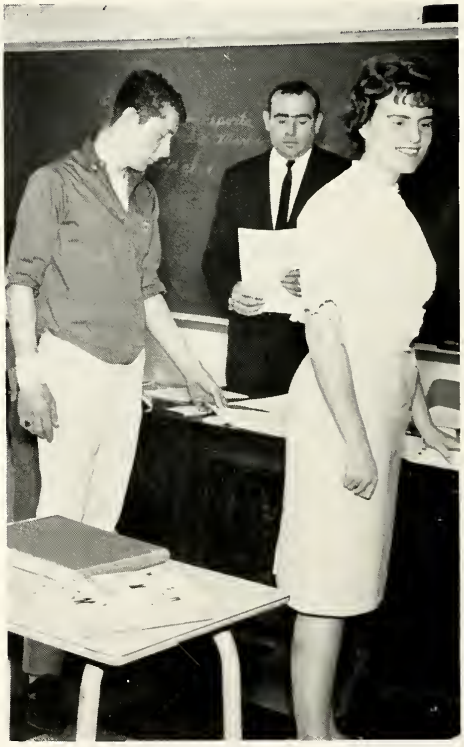
Who needs maps? "We do," respond the juniors in U.S. History.

OUR EVER-SMALLER WORLD REQUIRES

Realizing the need for better understanding between the nations of the world, CHS offers U.S. and World History, and government. Here stuudents can relive the battles, revolutions, and discoveries of oceans and unknown lands, that occurred years ago. Through reliving of the past, students learn to be better citizens.

"Now, where is Australia?" asks Miss Herbert, while Terry Shively and Beverly Welch wonder if it's lost.



"Hand in your papers," Mr. Hemphill says, but it doesn't seem to disturb sociology students Bruce Fletter and Judy Fuller.

In our foreign language classes students study Spanish and Latin. Since Spanish is a modern language, conversation is stressed. Records are used to perfect their pronunciation and ability to hear and understand easily. Latin is studied from a more classical aspect; students also learn with an eye toward obtaining a better command of their own language, English. Through these classes, they gain a wider view of the world both past and present.

Can you translate this Latin story as you look over JoAnn Patton's shoulder?

KNOWLEDGE OF CIVICS AND LANGUAGE

Could you translate these sentences like these Spanish II students are doing?

This display of South American curios makes Spanish a more intriguing subject.

To make the grade in Miss Allison's speech class, you must be able to think rapidly and express your opinions well.

AMERICAN EDUCATION REQUIRES

"Is this symbolic?", could be the question Mr. Dowdy is asking these sophomores.

"Maybe Nancy McDaniel can help me if I get stuck." These could be the thoughts of Bill Shively, as he diagrams a sentence in freshman English.

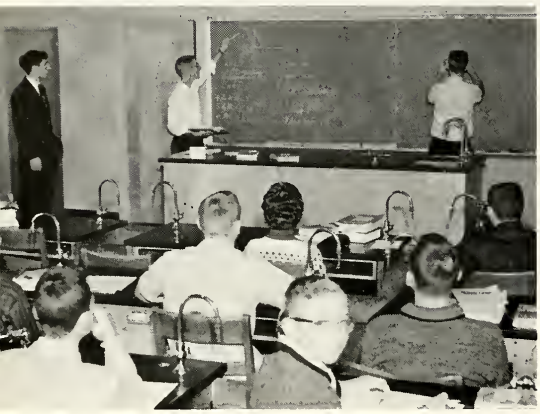
ENGLISH AS A BASIS

In our English classes at C.H.S. freshmen, sophamores, juniors, and a few hardy seniors labor over cognate objects and superlatives. In the second semester literature is studied during which we sample a wide variety of authors, such as Hemingway, Sandburg, and Dickens. Our teachers hope we will continue on our own ta pursue this subject.

The speech class teaches us to speak correctly and overcome any "stage fright" we might have by means of panel discussions, interpretations, and various types of speeches. We have fun and at the same time learn a valuable skill.

Junior Shirley Clem concentrates on an idea for her English theme.

THE WORLD OF FIGURES AND SYMBOLS



"Pay attention to the explanation of that geometry problem, Joel!" Mr. Miller looks on to see that Hershel does the problem correctly.

"If George is x years old, and Pete will be 3 times George's age in 7 years; how old is George now?" At first glance, this may seem to be a terrific problem; but to an algebra student, this is very simple.

Under the careful eye of all the algebra and geometry teachers, students learned a new facet of math. Although it takes a lot of work, you earn a sense of accomplishment when you finish.

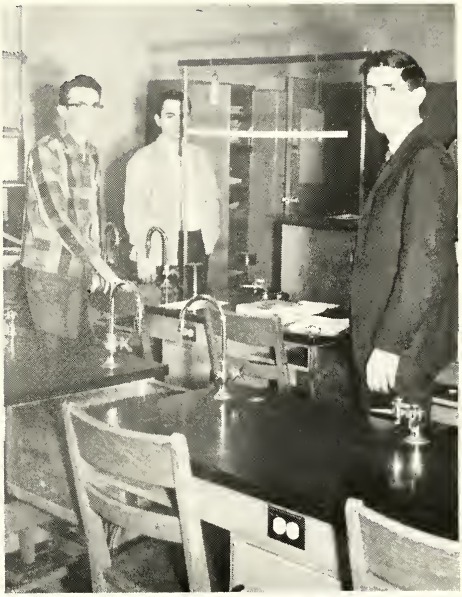
By the way, did you know the answer?

"What is that?" is the thought going through the heads of the members of Mr. Baker's trigonometry class.

"Is this a hyperbola or a parabola?" asks Mr. Baker, while the Algebra II students doubt that they will ever remember either one.

ARE KEYS TO THE FUTURE

Mr. Scribner shows students how to use a projection microscope which augments microscopic life many times its original size.



Mr. Miller demonstrates parallel forces showing that the equilibrant of two paralled forces is equal to their sums.

Absent was Don Martin.

THE BASKETBALL TEAM BRINGS

Kneeling cheerleaders: Sherral Geiger and Sharon Sheldon. Standing cheerleaders: Bob Helm and Phil McCoy.

This year's Varsity team was an almost new team with only one returning Varsity player. This factor didn't stop the Eagles. They practiced hard and seemed to have that extra will to win. The Eagles started the season by winning five consecutive games, including a victory over Huntertown.

The Eagles finished the season with eight wins and ten losses. This included many thrilling games that weren't determined until the final gun.

Next year we can hope far an even better record, because we will see most of the Varsity players back again. The Varsity is losing three members, but six will be returning.

C.H.S. is proud of its two fine coaches, Mr. Delagrange and Mr. Robbins.

FRESHMAN AND JUNIOR HIGH TEAMS PREPARE

The Freshman Basketball team ended their season losing thirteen out of fourteen games. The team was overshadowed by their opponents in height every game. Nine of the twelve boys on the team were 5'5" or under with one boy at 5'10". Despite the lack of height the team was beaten by eleven points or less in all games but one. However, five or six of the boys showed promise and should make the grade next year.

CINDER PATHS AND DIAMOND FIELDS ARE

The Eagle Cross-Country team, under Coach Delagrange, enjoyed a very successful season with a record of eight wins in ten meets, losing twice to Ashley, state runner-up. Highlights of the season were the Eagles capturing a six team meet and winning the county meet. Junior Geiger set a school record of ten minutes, sixteen seconds for two miles and also finished twenty-second in the sectional in a field of one hundred ninety-two runners. The team came in twelfth.

The Booster Club had a membership of one hundred and fifty students. They sponsored sock hops after the games to raise money for their various expenses. Part of this money was spent on sixteen black and gold pom-poms for the cheerleaders. These added much to the appearance of the squads and pepped up the group. At tourney time the club sold black and gold patches to arouse school spirit and cheer the boys on to victory.

HUNTERTOWN PEP SESSION

Loyal Busco fans stand round the fire as they await the burning of the Huntertown Wildcat.

This crowd uses the fire as well as yelling to keep them warm.

VICTORY seems to be the chant of this exuberant crowd.

Come on, gang, let's show them that "WE'VE GOT SPIRIT."

Bottom row: Miss Ellen Yager, Sponsor; Connie Shively, Carolyn Benson, Sharon Sheldon, Judy Fuller, Jeanne Gross, Karen Andorfer, Sherry Zolman, Patty Zolman, Susie Barnhart. Second row: Connie Gray, Jeanne Blackburn, Nancy McDaniel, Pam Croxton, Karen Byrd, Marna Diffendarfer, Suzanne Hultz, Lana Fry, Nancy Schenher, Nancy Egolf, Mary Hickman. Third row: Brenda Gordon, Pam Butler, Cynthia Nicholson, Lorriane Bixler, Jenna Gustin, Jera Krider, Marilyn Benson, Annette Jones, Suzanne Crabill, Kathy Kirtley. Fourth row: Michele Adams, Patty Jamieson, Joyce Gaff, Peggy Butler, Mary Haber, Jeannette Bender, Marjorie Deem, Mary Nunchuck, Crystal Buschman, Jessica Knight, Barbara Deck, Linda Welch. The G.A.A. Kept Physically Fit Bowling and Swimming

Miss Ellen Yager led the Churubusco G.A.A. as its sponsor this year. G.A.A. met most Wednesdays after school for its activities. One six-weeks the members swam at the YWCA after school on Mondays. Other activities were bowling, tumbling, volleyball, badminton, and high jump. The last event of the year was a hike out to the lake with each girl carrying a lunch. Officers for next year were chosen at the hike.

All hands reach for the ball.

Now what will "Bird" Don Martin try?

Oh, no! Max Bair's on the floor!

If glances could kill. . .

OUR BEST TODAY FOR A BETTER TOMORROW

We, the Seniors of '63 began our academic career when nineteen of us entered the first grade in September 1951. Since then we have lost many classmates but have gained some new ones.

These last 12 years have been very successful. We broke many records, including our fish fries, magazine sales, and class play, which in the end made our trip possible.

In a short while we will have had twelve years of education behind us. We will soon bid farewell to Churubusco High School, our classmates, and the faculty. We will go in different directions and some of us may never see each other again.

Where the road of life will lead us, no one really knows but God. When we exit the doors of Churubusco High for the last time, there will be many other doors waiting for us to enter. No matter what each may venture, the class of '63 extends its best wishes to every fellow classmate for a prosperous life and a very successful future.

JUNIORS ANALYZE FINANCES

On the seventh day of September, the year 1962, fifty-seven juniors made their way through the crowded halls of C.H.S., to once more resume the school activities after a summer of loafing and working.

We soon found ourselves knee-deep in work, getting ready for class play, "Dino" directed by Miss Marlene Allison.

Our candy sales and the Junior Store proved to be quite profitable and all worked hard to meet our goals.

The eagerly awaited rings finally arrived and our sponsors, Miss Yager, Mrs. Teghtmeyer, and Mr. Hemphill had to put up with us, during home room, showing our rings to all the other juniors. The sponsors were very helpful and kept us very busy all year.

The Sophomores End Their First Half Of The High School Journey

At the beginning of the year the Sophomore Class had an enrollment of ninety-three. During the year we lost six students and acquired two more. Our sponsors—Mr. Scribner, Miss Allison, Mr. Delagrange, and Mr. Dowdy—found themselves in charge of the largest class in the school.

At our first meeting the following officers were elected: president, Steve Parker; vice-president, Terry Zolman; secretary, Julie Herron; treasurer, Patty Zolman; and reporter, Sherry Zolman. Steve Parker and Wayne Creech were chosen to represent us on the Student Council.

Nancy Barnhart and Sherry Zolman helped for their second year on the TUSITALA staff and Nancy Egolf and Joanne Reed were also added.

Our Christmas card sale was a big success. We went over our goal and broke the school record, selling over eighteen-hundred boxes.

For our class sweaters we chose red sweaters with white and red emblem and numerals.

We are very proud of the three boys who were on the Varsity. They were Jack Green, Dave Martin, and Steve Parker. Three of our other members, Julie Herron, Patty Zolman, and Sherry Zolman, represented us as Reserve Cheerleaders.

FRESHMEN Are Introduced to a New World of Changing Classes and Activities

CHS added to its ranks this year seventy-seven new freshmen—eighteen from Green Center, and fifty-nine from its own eighth grade.

The freshmen elected, as class officers, Chuck Mathieu, president; Beverly Linvill, vice-president; Suzanne Hultz, secretary and reporter; Charlene Clouse, treasurer; and Nancy McDaniel, Student Council representative.

Their sponsors were: Mr. Baker, Miss Herbert, Mr. Miller, and Mrs. Williams.
